DITSON & CO.'S

CLASSICAL COLLECTIONS FOR THE PIANO.

Books containing some of the Greatest Works of the Greatest Masters.

BACH.

Forty-eight Fugues; or, Well-tempered Clavichord.—A superb edition of the Well-tempered Clavichord; substantial binding and clear print. No better edition of these forty-eight fugues exists in this form; and those who wish a favorite collection of some of the masterworks of the greatest contrapuntist that ever lived, will find this book reliable and correct. Bach's fugues are standard everywhere. Price, cloth, $4.50.

BEETHOVEN.

Beethoven's Sonatas.—New and carefully revised Stuttgart edition; also known as the Von Bulow edition.

Sonatas Nos. 1 to 18, from Op. 2 to 49, edited by Sigmund Lebert, assisted by Immanuel Falsst. Sonatas Nos. 19 to 33, from Op. 53 to 111, edited by Dr. Hans Von Bulow. The notes translated by J. C. D. Parker, and copyrighted by the publishers.

The publication of these sonatas has been attended with more care and expense than has ever been expended upon any pianoforte music in this country. Every plate has been engraved by one of the best music engravers in America or Europe. Two volumes, sheet music size. Price, cloth, each, $6.00; paper, each, $3.00.

CHOPIN.

Chopin's Mazurkas and Waltzes.—Complete collection. Sheet music size. To which is prefixed his biography and a critical review of his works by F. Liszt. This work, by one of the great masters of music, should be owned by every pianist. Price, cloth, $3.00.

Chopin's Waltzes.—Complete. Peters' edition reprinted. Sheet music size. An elegant engraved edition of the waltzes, carefully revised with foreign fingering, by Hermann Scholtz. Price, paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.25.

Chopin's Waltzes.—Stereotype edition. Sheet music size. Complete and reliable. Price, paper, 50 cents.

Chopin's Waltzes.—Elegant plate edition known as the "Russell Edition." Price, $3.00.

Chopin's Mazurkas.—Complete. Paper edition. Price, $1.00.

Chopin's Nocturnes.—Peters' edition reprinted, No. 1904.

Elegant edition of these classic Nocturnes revised and fingered by Hermann Scholtz. Price, cloth, $1.50; paper, 60 cents.

CLEMENTI.

Elementi's Sonatines.—(Op. 36, 37, 38.) Peters' edition, Leipzig, reprinted. Revised by Köhler. Sheet music size.

Clementi's Sonatines are extensively used by teachers; they are as admirable for study as for recreation. This is a fine engraved edition—a low price. Price, 50 cents.

HAYDN.

Haydn's Sonatas.—This is a substantial edition of the Sonatas of the great master. Every advanced player should have it. Price, paper, $2.00; cloth, $3.00.

KÖHLER.

Köhler's Kinder-Album, two books each.—Charming pieces for little players. The music is of the better grade, carefully fingered (foreign fingering), and printed in large size from elegant engraved plates. Price, 75 cents.

Köhler's Sonatinen Album.—Peters' edition reprinted, No. 1233, bis. Contains Sonatines by Kuhlau, Clementi, Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven, and Dussek, and rondos and other pieces by Bach, Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven, Schubert, Weber, and Mendelssohn. Foreign fingering. Excellent for young players. Price, cloth, $1.50; paper, 75 cents.

KUHLAU.

Kuhlau's Sonatines.—Peters' edition, reprinted, No. 715 A. Edited by Louis Köhler. Foreign fingering. Standard Sonatines, used by teachers generally. Price, cloth, $1.25; paper, 50 cents.

MENDELSSOHN.

Mendelssohn's Songs Without Words (Lieder Ohne Worte).—Copy of Peters' edition, reprinted.

This is a superb edition from engraved plates, sheet music size, fingered by Theo. Kullak, and in every way perfect and reliable. Ask for O. Ditson & Co.'s fine edition. Price, cloth, $1.50; paper, $1.00.

Mendelssohn's Songs Without Words (Lieder Ohne Worte).—Sheet music size. Price, cloth, $1.50; gilt, $2.00.

Mendelssohn's Songs Without Words (Lieder Ohne Worte).—Elegantly printed from engraved plates. American fingering, by C. H. Jarvis. Price, cloth, $4.00.

Mendelssohn's Songs Without Words (Lieder Ohne Worte).—With European fingering, by Hugo Leonard. (Known as "Russell's Elegant Engraved Edition.") Price, cloth, $4.00; cloth, full gilt, $5.00.

N. B.—All the editions contain the full number of forty-nine songs, and are on plates of full sheet music size.

MOZART.

Mozart's Nineteen Sonatas.—Metronomized and fingered. Price, cloth, $4.00.

Mozart's Nineteen Sonatas.—Fingered by J. Moschelles. Price, cloth, $4.00; cloth, full gilt, $5.00.

N. B.—These editions are elegantly bound, printed from engraved plates, full sheet music size, known as the "Russell Engraved Edition."

SCHUMANN.

Schumann's Album for Young Pianists.—Containing fifty-six pieces. Op. 68 and Op. 15. Beautifully printed on plates of full sheet music size.

Schumann's "Album" occupies the same field for the learner which Mendelssohn's "Songs Without Words" does for the advanced player. It is full of beautiful melodies, arranged in the manner so characteristic of its author. Price, cloth, $1.75; paper, $1.25.

Schumann's Album for Young Pianists.—Carefully fingered, and containing fifty-six pieces. Op. 68 and Op. 15. Elegantly engraved from plates of full sheet music size, and known among the profession as the "Russell Engraved Edition." Price, cloth, $2.50.

N. B.—Many editions of Schumann's "Album" are confined to his Op. 68, and contain but forty-three pieces. The above editions contain both Op. 68 and Op. 15; in all, fifty-six pieces.

MISCELLANEOUS COLLECTIONS.

PIANO CLASSICS.

A BOOK OF GEMS BY THE BEST COMPOSERS.

A Collection of 44 Piano Pieces of Unusual Merit.—The publishers esteem themselves very fortunate in having found among their more recent sheet music so many pieces of true "classical" beauty. While pleasing to all, they will be especially welcome to players of ability and taste, who wish to find new music which is on a line with that of the "masters."

The composers whose works are found in this very superior book are masters in their way, and their compositions are sure to satisfy those who love good music.

While the music of Piano Classics is of a high character, it is only moderately difficult. Price, boards, $1.00; cloth, full gilt, $2.00.

THE CLASSICAL PIANIST.

42 Choice Classics for the Pianoforte.—The music is not of exceeding difficulty, but it is such as will please players of cultivated taste, and afford genuine pleasure to all who like artistic piano music. Price, boards, $1.00; full gilt, $2.00.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S CLASSICS.

52 Easy Classics for the Pianoforte.—Nominally for young pupils, but really just the thing for pupils and players of all ages who can only conquer easy music, and still wish for something a step above the common easy popular airs. Fifty-two pieces, by Lichner, Lange, Kullak, Spindler, Oesten, Schumann, Reinecke, Loeschhorn, Schubert, Heller, Beethoven, Mendelssohn, and others. A grand collection of easy music that is good, and which will improve the taste as well as please the young pianist. Price, board covers, $1.00; cloth, gilt, $2.00.

THALBERG'S L'ART DU CHANT.

In this elegant book will be found transcriptions by Sigismund Thalberg (the great pianist) of the following-named melodies:—

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1. Quatuor from "Puritani." | 6. "Perche mi Guardì" from Zelmira. |
| 2. "Tre Giorni," An air by Pergolese. | 7. "Bella adorata," from Giuramento. |
| 3. "Adelaide," by Beethoven. | 8. "Nel Silenzio," from Crociato. |
| 4. "Air d'Eglise," from Stradella. | 9. "Einsam bin ich nicht," from Preciosa. |
| 5. Lacrymosa, from Mozart's Requiem and a duo from Figaro. | 10. "Le Munier et le Torrent," by Schubert. |

All these transcriptions exemplify the "art of singing as applied to the piano." In other words, they show how a piano may be made to respond to the touch in as sympathetic a manner as does the voice to the efforts of the cultured vocalist. Price, cloth, $4.00.

LÖW'S PRACTICAL COURSE IN FOUR-HAND PIANO PLAYING.

A progressive and thoroughly practical set of exercises for two learners to play on one piano, or for teacher and pupil together, by Joseph Löw. The book contains, besides the exercises, a varied collection of pretty melodies arranged as piano duets. To be used in connection with any pianoforte instructor, out more especially with Köhler's studies. Price, 75 cents.

MUSICAL DICTIONARIES AND CATECHISMS

AND VALUABLE WORKS ON MUSICAL THEORY AND HARMONY.

HOW SHALL I TEACH? OR, HINTS TO TEACHERS AS TO THE USE OF MUSIC AND ITS NOTATION.—By Dr. Lowell Mason.

An excellent book for teachers of singing classes, and for those who have private pupils, in the rudiments of music. The book is an explanation and illustration of Dr. Lowell Mason's system of imparting instruction in music, and directs the teacher in a course that, if followed, qualifies him for the very best class work. Price, 38 cents.

INSTRUMENTATION.—By Ebenezer Prout.

A valuable guide and assistant to the musical student who wishes to gain a knowledge of the proper blending of orchestral instruments, their compass, capability, etc., and of everything connected with this important branch of the musical art. Price, 75 cents.

HOW TO PRACTISE.—By A. M. Pupin.

"How to Practise; or, Hints to Piano Students on the Method of Practising Finger Exercises, Etudes, and Pieces," is a new book written by an eminent teacher, and plainly shows the importance of aiming at perfection in the smallest details, which is the secret of success. The author gives the method pursued by him during many years' teaching. Price, 50 cents.

MUSICAL SCALE.—By Horace P. Biddle.

A very interesting and scientific treatise on the tones of the scales, harmonies, sympathetic tones, vibrations, causes of different qualities of tones, etc., with thirteen illustrative plates. Price, cloth, $1.50.

MUSICAL FORMS. A Musical Primer.—By Ernst Pauer.

Describes the form and general arrangement of all sorts of pieces, vocal and instrumental, and enables one to recognize the distinction between marches, waltzes, and all sorts of dances, rondos, fugues, canons, etc.; as also between all varieties of church and other vocal music. Price, 75 cents.

OUTLINE OF MUSICAL FORM.—By W. S. B. Mathews.

Designed for musical students, both amateur and special. Giving the structure of the different characters of musical composition,—such as melodic form, song form, rondo, sonata, ecclesiastical form, etc. Price, 60 cents.

PHRASING, AS APPLIED TO PIANOFORTE PLAYING.—By A. W. Marchant.

Phrasing is the proper rendering of music with reference to its melodic form. This well-written book should be in the student's library. Price, 40 cents.

RULES FOR YOUNG MUSICIANS.—By Robert Schumann.

Schumann's famous "Rules" will always be a source from whence much good advice may be obtained in a few words. Price, 12 cents.

BAKER'S THEORETICAL AND PRACTICAL HARMONY.—By B. F. Baker.

A reliable and comprehensive work. Price, $1.50

BAXTER'S CULTURE OF HARMONY.—By James Baxter.

Treats of culture of harmony and structure of composition. Price, $1.25.

COUNTERPOINT.—By J. F. Bridge, Mus. Doc.

This new work contains original examples, the old, hackneyed examples and exercises having been, to a great extent, discarded by the author. Price, 75c.

JOHNSON'S PESTALOZZIAN HARMONY.—By A. N. Johnson.

Practical instruction in harmony. Price, $1.25.

JOHNSON'S NEW METHOD FOR THOROUGH BASS.—By A. N. Johnson.

An easy method. Very popular. Price, $1.00.

OLIVER'S THOROUGH BASS.—By E. B. Oliver.

A manual of thorough bass, and textbook of theory. Price, 67 cents.

PETERS' BURROWS' THOROUGH BASS PRIMER AND COMPANION.

This book contains all of Burrows' "Thorough Bass" and Burrows' "Companion to Thorough Bass," together with a large amount of selected matter explanatory of the various subjects treated. Price, 60 cents.

RICHTER'S MANUAL OF HARMONY.—By Ernst Friedrich Richter.

A practical guide to its study. Expressly prepared for the Conservatory of Music at Leipzig. Translated from the eighth German edition, by J. C. D. Parker. Standard authority everywhere. Price, $2.00.

CLARKE'S CATECHISM OF THE RUDIMENTS OF MUSIC.—By James Clarke.

This enlarged edition of a very useful work is in the form of questions and answers. Price, 38 cents.

JOHNSON'S NEW METHOD FOR HARMONY.—By A. N. Johnson.

This may be classed among the "easy" methods. The author's former "Harmony," described above, was designed for those who wish to take a complete course. Those who would learn to make easy accompaniments to songs, easy piano or organ pieces, or school, Sabbath-school, or church music books, should obtain this "New Method." Price, $1.00.

STAINER AND BARRETT'S DICTIONARY OF MUSICAL TERMS.

Edited by J. Stainer, Mus. Doc., Magdalen College, Oxford, and W. A. Barrett, Mus. Bach., St. Mary Hall, Oxford. Illustrated.

These two Oxonians have been successful in putting together a book which is not only a dictionary, but a fine musical encyclopædia, which takes a place held by no other publication. The greater part of the "Terms" are briefly and clearly explained, but where there is a necessity for amplification, the article is extended even to the length of an essay. The numerous illustrations, pictorial and musical, add greatly to the attractions of the volume. Boards, $2.50; cloth, $3.00.

BERTINI'S SELF-TEACHING CATECHISM.

A handy little volume, containing ample explanations of the rudiments of music and the first steps in piano playing. Price, 40 cents.

BUCK'S DICTIONARY.—By Dudley Buck.

All students will admire it. Besides the dictionary proper, there is appended the "Home and Life Rules for Musicians," by Robert Schumann, translated by C. Jays. Price, 40 cents.

FIVE THOUSAND MUSICAL TERMS.—A Dictionary by J. S. Adams.

Very popular. More than 100,000 copies sold. Price, 75 cents.

LUDDEN'S PRONOUNCING DICTIONARY OF MUSICAL TERMS.—

By W. Ludden.

This valuable work gives the proper orthographical spelling of the various words or musical terms, and the proper pronunciation is then indicated by means of phonetic spelling and a key, which is added at the top of each page. The work is far more complete than anything heretofore published, and gives the proper pronunciation of the various musical terms as used in the German, French, Italian, Latin, Russian, Spanish, and other languages; care being taken to discard the thousands of useless and meaningless words and sentences usually put in such works. Price, boards, $1.00; cloth, $1.25.

MACY'S PRONOUNCING POCKET DICTIONARY.

Much in little. One of the most convenient musical dictionaries ever published. Price, 15 cents.

MOORE'S ENCYCLOPEDIA OF MUSIC.—By J. W. Moore.

A complete encyclopædia of music—elementary, technical, historical, biographical, vocal, and instrumental. To which is added an appendix introducing musical events to the present time. Price, cloth, $5.00.

RICHTER'S TREATISE ON COUNTERPOINT.

Translated and adapted from the German of Ernst Friedrich Richter, professor at the Conservatory of Music, Leipzig, by Franklin Taylor, with additional appendix by J. C. D. Parker. This work has been adopted by the Board of Professors at the National College of Music, England, and is a standard work on counterpoint both in Germany and England. Price, $2.00.

RICHTER'S TREATISE ON FUGUE.—By Ernst Friedrich Richter.

Including the study of Imitation and Canon. Translated from the third German edition by Arthur W. Foote, A.M. This "Treatise on Fugue" will be of great interest to students, and especially so to organists. It takes a place at once among the rest of Richter's works in English translations. Price, cloth, $2.

SARONI'S THEORY OF HARMONY.—By M. J. Saroni.

A standard work by a practical teacher. Price, $1.00.

SOUTHARD'S THOROUGH BASS AND HARMONY.—By L. H. Southard.

Elements of thorough bass and harmony, designed for the use of schools, classes, and conservatories, and as an aid in acquiring the art of playing church music and of extemporizing. Price, boards, 50 cents.

MARY P. WEBSTER'S EXERCISES ON SCALES AND CHORDS.

Useful to teacher and pupil. A book that should be handy to every piano. Price, 30 cents.

Books sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of the above-named prices.

PREFACE.

In presenting the "INTERNATIONAL BANJO INSTRUCTOR" to teachers and students of the popular instrument, we are aware that we tread upon ground already well occupied; but, at the same time, we feel that we are bringing to notice new ideas, such as have not before appeared in a Banjo instruction-book.

It has heretofore been considered necessary by some writers for the Banjo, to mark the note E (upper space in staff) with a double stem and a zero, while others have invented signs to indicate that the E should be played upon the fifth string. This has caused much confusion, as many players have mistaken the double stem for a sixteenth note, &c. We consider it best to always play the E on the fifth string, open, (unless otherwise marked,) for the reason that such a change assists the student, and does not confuse him with useless signs.

We wish also to impress upon the minds of Banjo-players the uselessness of taking down the Bridge when putting the instrument away, as such a proceeding injures the instrument. Washing the head of the Banjo is also injurious, as it impairs the tone and is of no practical benefit.

We take this occasion to thank the following named gentlemen, whose contributions have added much to the interest of the book:—Messrs. A. Baur, Brookville, Pa.; John M. Turner, New York; H. C. Blackmar, New Orleans; C. H. Lefavour, Salem, Mass.; Ed. H. Hulse, Buffalo, N. Y.; E. Pique, San Francisco; Ike Browne, North Adams, Mass.; Ed. De Barra, New Orleans; Frank Hanson, Boston; T. A. Kimball, Boston; E. K. Foster, Boston; J. C. Hewitt, Canton, Mass.; Walter Burke, Providence, R. I.; C. E. Latshaw, St. Louis, Mo.; James T. Crozier, Wilmington, Del., and Ranous A. Smith, Pittsfield, Mass.

In order to improve the standing of the Banjo, an improved quality of music is necessary, such as we have endeavored to give in this book, which will, we trust, find many friends.

Very Respectfully,

FAIRBANKS & COLE.

Scales.

The distance from A to a, or from B to b, is called an octave. We may divide this unit, the octave into twelve nearly equal intervals, called, "half steps," and indicated by frets on the Banjo. This forms the Chromatic Scale.

Chromatic scales can be played on each string, by beginning with the open string and then making a stop at each fret.

Major Scales.

Major scales can be played on each string by the following

Formula.

Open String. 0	2d Fret.	4th Fret.	5th Fret.	7th Fret.	9th Fret	11th Fret.	12th Fret.
Degrees: 1st.....	2d.....	3d.....	4th.....	5th.....	6th.....	7th.....	8th.
Whole tone.	Whole tone.	Half tone.	Whole tone,	Whole tone.	Whole tone.	Half tone.

The Musical Alphabet.

Notes are named after the first seven letters of the alphabet: A, B, C, D, E, F, G. The eighth degree we name a, which also begins the next octave. We can form a scale from any letter; the letter we begin with gives the scale its key name.

The notes written on the spaces may be easily remembered by observing that the letters F A C E, on the spaces, spell the word Face. Other words may be formed, proving both amusing and instructive.

Sharps and Flats.

A sharp (#) placed before a note raises it a semitone; a flat (b) placed before a note lowers it a semitone; a natural (n) restores the original sound, and therefore may be used to either raise or lower a note, possessing the power of the sharp and flat combined. Sharps or flats placed at the beginning of any music affect certain notes throughout the entire piece. Every note can be made sharp or flat, and the signature which establishes a key may contain as many as seven sharps or flats.

1 sharp. 2 sharps. 3 sharps. 4 sharps. 5 sharps. 6 sharps. 7 sharps.

Key of G, D, A, E, B, F#, C#.

N. B. The key-tone is always one degree above the last sharp to the right.

1 flat. 2 flats. 3 flats. 4 flats. 5 flats. 6 flats. 7 flats.

Key of F, Bb, Eb, Ab, Db, Gb, Cb.

For the flat keys, the flat next to the last towards the right gives the key-tone, or the fourth degree below the last flat.

The following simple method of memorizing will enable the pupil to literally have all the signatures and key-tones "at the finger ends." Name the wrist of the right hand C, and the fingers as follows: First finger (thumb), G; second, D; third, A; fourth, E; fifth, B; and fifth finger of left hand, F \sharp . Close the right hand and the wrist is C. (No sharps or flats.) Raise first finger, (G), signature one sharp; add second finger, (D), two sharps; third finger, (A), three sharps; fourth finger, (E), four sharps; fifth finger, (B), five sharps; sixth finger, (little finger of left hand) is (F \sharp), six sharps.

To find the Letters Sharped.

One sharp is the sixth finger, (F \sharp); two sharps, sixth and wrist, (C \sharp); three sharps, sixth finger, wrist and first finger, (G \sharp); four sharps, add second finger; five sharps, add third finger; six sharps, add fourth finger. For signatures in flats reverse the process, calling the sixth finger F, (not F \sharp); fifth finger, B \flat ; fourth, E \flat ; third, A \flat ; second, D \flat ; first, G \flat ; and we shall see that the fingers held up represent the number of flats.

To find the Letters Flatted.

One flat is the fifth finger, (B \flat); two flats, add fourth, (E \flat); three flats, add third, (A \flat); four flats, add second, (D \flat); five flats, add first, (G \flat); six flats, add the wrist, (C \flat).

Measure.

Accent is stress, or force. These accents are used in music: strong, medium and weak. A Pulse is the duration of time between two accents. A Measure is the distance from one strong to another strong accent, or from a medium or weak accent to a second medium or weak accent occupying the same relative position to the second strong accent. The bar (|) precedes the strong accent. The double bar (||) marks the end of a phrase, but does not indicate accent. A strong accent may be followed by one or two weak accents, as |Ma-ry, |Mer-ri-ly. It is only possible to have one strong accent in a measure. Simple measure then may be either two-pulse (duple) or three-pulse (triple). All other measures are compounded from these two classes.

Signatures

Are of three kinds: Clef, Key, and Time. We have explained the first and second. The time signature is formed of two figures, expressed as a fraction; the upper figure denotes the number of pulses, and the lower figure, the note representing the pulse-unit. The note that predominates in a sentence is used for the pulse-unit.

Simple Measure.

Compound Measure.

The dot (·) is half the value of the note or rest that precedes it.

Written. Value. Written. Value. Written. Value. Written. Value. Written. Value. Written. Value.

Dots placed at the double bar, thus, ||: signify a repetition of the passage.

Appoggiatura or Grace Notes

Are used to ornament or enrich the melody, and may be written above or below the principal note. All grace notes displace the principal note, and take part of its value. The grace note is very short when there is a line through its stem, () and is played as quickly as possible, the accent falling on the principal note. When there is no line through the stem, it takes one-half of the value from the note following it, and also takes the accent.

Signs of Repetition.

The letters D. C. are used as an abbreviation of Da Capo, which signifies "to repeat from the beginning," when placed at the end of a piece; we therefore return to the beginning, and play to the word Fine, which means the finish, or the end. This character, , is called a sign. When it occurs for the second time, we return to where it first occurred, and play to the Fine, or to the Pause, () which is placed over a double bar, thus:  at the conclusion of a piece. The letters D. S., at the end of a piece, are an abbreviation of the term Dal Segno, "from the sign." Sometimes we notice a term, thus: "D. S. al Fine;" literally, to play from the sign to Fine, the end.

The Slur or Tie.

This sign, , placed over or under two notes on the same degree, is called a Tie, and the second, or tied note is not to be played. This sign, , placed over or under two or more notes on different degrees in music written for the Banjo, the first note is made with the right hand, and the following note or notes (if descending the scale) with the left hand, by picking or snapping the string; if ascending the scale, the method for the left hand is to bring out the note or notes following the first in vibration, by striking down upon the string.

The proper Dimensions of a Banjo.

Much advice has been given on this subject in so-called instruction books for the banjo, generally advising a neck seventeen and one-half inches long, and a rim eleven inches in diameter, and two and five-eighths inches in depth. It is true that many banjos are constructed on this plan, and, with some slight modifications, they will do for a tyro; and as nearly all instruction books are written with paste brush and scissors, this extraordinary unanimity of opinion is easily accounted for. But for the artist, or one who has given this subject even half a lifetime of study, a rim of eleven inches is not large enough for the proper amount of vibration to produce a full and musical quality of tone; as, even by adding one-half inch to the diameter of this rim, we have a gain of eighteen square inches of sounding board. This has been admitted by all honest searchers after truth and tone as an improvement. It is thus safe to assert that a rim of eleven and one-half inches is much to be preferred, and a depth of two and one-quarter inches is very desirable. Now, in order not to have the length of strings too great, we would advise a neck eighteen and one-half or nineteen inches in length, the shorter neck preferred for a beginner. This information has presumably been given for the use of those wishing to make a banjo for their own use. While we are perfectly willing to admit the right of every person to make a banjo, violin, guitar, or even a piano, it is but fair to admit that some specialists do excel in their special line. Hence, for an artistic result in any musical instrument, time, study, skill, and other qualities are needed for a proper result.

The proper Care of a Banjo.

Always keep your banjo in a case of some kind, a stiff one preferred, to prevent undue strain on neck, pegs, &c., and also to avoid possible breakage. Be sure and leave it well tuned, and do not remove the bridge. We are sorry to disagree with many of the banjo kings (?) of the present and past generation, but an honest desire to elevate the banjo, and give useful information, compels us to do this. If you have a properly constructed banjo, no bad results will follow this steady and even strain; while if you have the banjo king's delight, viz.: a store banjo, the neck will surely spring backwards when you take down the bridge. Never loosen the head after it is securely on the banjo; but do not strain it too soon after it is put on, as the moisture under the top hoop dries out very slowly, and, if tightened too soon, stretches the head, but does not tighten it. Do not wash the head to remove dirt stains, but, if they become unsightly, take a piece of common erasing rubber and rub lightly and evenly until they disappear. We again apologize to the antediluvian banjo kings and their silly imitators, for giving common sense advice, based on years of study and attention to detail, to improve the banjo.

How to Fret a Banjo.

The best way to fret a Banjo is to take it to a reliable manufacturer of the instrument, and have it properly done. The system in general use is as follows: the bridge should have a fixed position, about three inches from edge of rim; divide the distance from the nut to the bridge into eighteen equal parts, and place the first fret one-eighteenth from the nut; then divide the distance from the first fret to the bridge again into eighteen equal parts, and place the second fret one eighteenth from the first fret. Proceed in this manner for each fret, until you have as many frets as desired. Frets may be inlaid level with the finger-board, or raised like those on the guitar. We also give another rule for fretting, as follows:

To make a Scale for Fretting any Instrument.

Mark a place for bridge on Banjo head three inches from rim; draw on paper the line, U V, equal to one-half the distance between nut and the mark on head; divide this line in nine equal parts, take one of these parts in a pair of dividers and set it up perpendicular to the line, U V, at the point U, one-half above and one-half below the line. Now take the line, a b, and set it up in like manner at V, making it equal in length to one-half the line N T, or equal to line, N U; join N a and T b, making two converging lines; span these lines over the point U with dividers, apply this distance from the point U on the line U V, this will give the place for first fret, over which point span the two converging lines again; this new span applied on the central line, U V, from the first fret, will give the second fret, over which point you span a third time, and apply this span in like manner to the central line, giving the next fret, and so on till you get as many frets as you wish. If more than twelve frets are desired, extend the lines N a, U V and T b as far as you wish to fret, and proceed as before. When the Banjo is strung up, place the bridge as far from the twelfth fret as that is from the nut.

Method of Tuning the Banjo.

Tune the fourth string to A, from either an instrument, or pitch-pipe; then tune the third string to E, which may be found on the fourth string, at the seventh fret. Tune the second string to G#, or in unison with the tone produced on the third string, fourth fret. Tune the first string to B, or in unison with the second string, at the third fret. Tune the fifth string to E, an octave above the third string, or in unison with the first string at the fifth fret. The strings of the Banjo when in tune give the following tones:

To Tune the Banjo with the Guitar.

The strings of the Guitar, when in tune, give the following tones. (The strings are numbered from the smallest.)

First string. Second string. Third string. Fourth string. Fifth string. Sixth string.

Tune the fourth or bass string of the Banjo to the fifth or A string of the Guitar, then tune the other strings from the bass, in the usual manner. The Banjo being tuned to the key of A, the Guitar will accompany it in that key, or in any key in which it may be played, by playing in the same key on the Guitar.

If you wish to tune the banjo higher, to the key of C, tune the third string to the third or G string of the guitar, the other strings from that tone. Now, when the banjo is played as if in the key of A, the music is produced in the key of C, and the guitar to accompany it must be played in C; if the banjo is played as in E, the music is produced in the key of G, and the guitar accompanies in G; if the banjo is played as in D, the music is in F, and the guitar accompanies in the key of F.

To Tune the Banjo with the Violin.

The strings of the violin when in tune give the following tones, beginning with the smallest string, which we will call the first.

Tune the fourth, or bass string of the banjo to the second, or A string of the violin (tuning an octave lower.) Tune the other strings from the bass in the usual manner. The banjo is then tuned in A, and may be played to accompany the violin, always playing in the same key as the violin.

To Tune the Banjo to C with the Piano.

Tune to the following tones in the bass clef.

To Tune the Banjo to A with the Piano.

Tune to the following tones in the bass clef.

Manner of Holding the Banjo.

The rim should rest on the right thigh, a little way from the body, the upper part of rim held firmly against the breast; the neck to rest lightly in the hollow between the thumb and fore-finger of left hand, the inside or palm not touching the neck, the end of neck to be elevated to about the height of the shoulder. The tips of the fingers are used in closing the strings, and must be held very firmly, to produce a clear, strong tone.

Position of the Right Hand.

Rest the arm on the rim about four inches from the tail-piece, the little finger resting on the head, about one-half inch from, and nearly opposite, the bridge. The fifth, fourth and third strings are played with the thumb, the second string with the first finger, the first string with the second finger. This rule is often varied by using the third finger for the first string, the second finger for the second string, the first finger for the third string; the thumb playing the fourth and fifth strings, as before. Some authorities do not advise resting the little finger on the head, others do not mention it. We think the teacher can advise the pupil in this matter, or, if one is studying without a teacher, use your own judgment. A new device, known as "Walker's wrist rest," will be found very useful in giving the proper position for the wrist and right hand.

The favorite keys on the banjo, or those easiest of execution, are A major, and F \sharp minor, signature, three sharps; E major, and C \sharp minor, four sharps; B major, five sharps; D major, and B minor, two sharps; G major, and E minor, one sharp; C major, and A minor, natural signature, (no sharps or flats); F major, and D minor, one flat; B \flat major, G minor, two flats.

We first give the scale in the key of A major, (often called the natural key of the banjo), because our lowest tone is A. By the use of figures, we show the fret, and the finger used to close the string for the given tones. The 0 indicates the string open. The note E, written in the upper space, can be made at five different places on the banjo. We will always play it on the fifth string, unless otherwise directed.

Chords in A Major. Introducing the Barre.

The Barre (Bar) is made by placing the first finger across the strings at the fret indicated by the figures above. Fifth Bar. meaning fifth fret, and seventh Bar. meaning seventh fret. The remaining fingers are free to stop the strings for notes higher than those at the Bar, the thumb is held firmly at the back of the neck. This sign, *, indicates a chord, made with the tips of the fingers, figured from the note made with the first finger.

In writing the chords, we adopt the system of writing each note separately, thus enabling the pupil to locate the fingers easily, and to memorize the chord correctly, always reading from the lowest note.

To assist the beginner, we have placed figures above the notes, to be counted for the time. The pupil should count aloud while playing, and persevere until able to make the playing follow the counting.

The Slide.

By C. E. LATSHAW.

One of the peculiar and novel effects of Banjo playing is that of the "Slide," of which there are two kinds, viz.: the primary and secondary. In the primary slide the note is sounded twice, once by sliding to the note with a finger of the left hand, which causes it to vibrate, then pick the note again with a finger of the right hand, thus:

I term this the primary slide, simply because it occurs on the primary accent of the measure, and in order to give the note the proper accent, we must strike or pick the note again, after sliding to it.

The secondary slide is produced by sliding rapidly to, and stopping suddenly, on the desired note, thus:

The secondary slide is of great importance in sliding from a higher to a lower note, thus:

In the foregoing example the sixteenth note is vibrated, not sounded with a finger of right hand.

Below I give an example of the slide on double notes, both ascending and descending. The grace note must always be written in the primary slide.

LA GOLONDRINA

ED. DE BARRA.

LA GOLONDRINA. In Mexico the Golondrina takes as firm hold upon the hearts of the people as "Home, Sweet Home" does upon the affections of those who speak the English tongue. If second to any, it gives way only to the national hymn, and not even to that, under certain conditions, or in its proper sphere.

See - - saw, see - - saw,.... Now we're off to Lon - don town,....

The first system of the 'See-saw Waltz' features a treble and bass staff in G major. The melody is in the treble, with lyrics 'See - - saw, see - - saw,.... Now we're off to Lon - don town,....'. The bass line provides harmonic support with chords and single notes. A triplet of eighth notes appears in the melody.

See - - saw, see - - saw, Boys and girls come out to play,

The second system continues the melody and bass line. The lyrics are 'See - - saw, see - - saw, Boys and girls come out to play,'. The music maintains the waltz tempo and key signature.

See - - saw,.... see - - saw, On this, our half hol-i - day.....

The third system includes the lyrics 'See - - saw,.... see - - saw, On this, our half hol-i - day.....'. It features a triplet marked '3*' and a measure marked '5*'. The system concludes with the word 'Fine.' in the right margin.

2*

The fourth system begins with a measure marked '2*'. It continues the instrumental accompaniment with various chords and melodic fragments.

5*.....

The fifth system starts with a measure marked '5*'. The music continues with a consistent harmonic and melodic pattern.

The sixth system continues the instrumental part of the waltz, featuring a triplet marked '3'.

D.C. al Fine.

The seventh system concludes the piece with the instruction 'D.C. al Fine.' in the right margin. The final measure is a whole note chord.

By REV. E. COHAM BREWER, D.D.

Among the many volumes which have appeared in later years upon "Sound, and its Phenomena," none have succeeded in introducing the subject so simply and happily as does this excellent book. The book is especially interesting as an introduction to the science of acoustics. Price, $1.25.

The Child's Voice.

By EMIL BEHNKE AND LENNOX BROWNE.

Its treatment with regard to After Development. Containing the experience in abstract and detail of over 200 teachers, and over 600 students.

Treats on the use and abuse of the child's voice, with rules for its care and treatment, with special reference to proper development. Price, $1.00.

Singing.

By ALBERTO RANDEGGER.

The author of this new work is professor of singing at the Royal Academy of Music, London. The book is quite exhaustive, and treats each subject pertaining to voice culture and development in a plain and interesting way. Price, $1.50.

Birthday Book of Musicians and Composers.

By GERTRUDE H. CHURCHILL.

An amusing and instructive Birthday Register. This handsome book is commended to the notice of all people interested in music, and all who wish to talk intelligently about it. The birthdays of about 700 musicians are here given. They are arranged according to date, "two days" occupying the left hand page. The right hand pages are blank, to give space for writing the birthdays of musical and other friends and of any new musical geniuses as they appear. Handsomely bound. Price, cloth, $1.25.

Ludden's Pronouncing Dictionary of Musical Terms.

This valuable work gives the proper orthographical spelling of the various words or musical terms; and the proper pronunciation is then indicated by means of Phonetic Spelling, and a Key, which is added at the top of each page. Boards, $1.25; cloth, $1.50.

BOOKS MAILED TO ANY ADDRESS, POST-PAID, ON RECEIPT OF ABOVE-NAMED PRICE. SEND FOR A LIST OF DITSON & CO.'S BOOKS ON THEORY AND HARMONY; ALSO, BIOGRAPHIES, DICTIONARIES, ETC.

The Voice as a Musical Instrument.

By H. STANLEY DAVIS, M.D.

This fine work is the result of the author's extensive experience with the laryngoscope and the treatment of diseases of the throat, and in the dietetic, hygienic and medical management of the voice. Price, 40 cts.

Piano and Song.

By FREDERICH WIECK.

How to teach, how to learn, and how to form a judgment of musical performances, are the topics treated in this admirable book. Frederick Wieck was the father and teacher of the celebrated Clara Wieck (now the widow of the renowned composer, Robert Schumann, who was also a pupil of Wieck). The subject matter is in the form of conversations and letters to young people, and is as interesting as instructive. Price, $1.25.

The Rheingold Trilogy.

By OCTAVIA HENSEL.

A synopsis and description of the great "Nibelungen Ring," or the three great works that form it, viz.: "Walkure," "Siegfried," and "Götterdämmerung." Those who would like to obtain an insight into the productions of Richard Wagner should take this interesting book in hand. Price, 50 cts.

The Soprano. A Musical Story.

By JANE KINGSFORD.

A very entertaining story, which all lovers of good music, and those who are engaged in singing before the public, will appreciate. The dialogue is bright and interesting; the story is wholesome and full of good advice. Price, $1.00.

The Violin and its Music.

By GEORGE HART.

Illustrated with several steel engravings of eminent violinists. The broad range of interest in the book which appears at the very beginning, and the evident appreciation of the romantic as well as the practical side of the question, show that the man is not merged in the specialist, and that outsiders, as well as experts, may look to find amusement as well as instruction therein. The range of the book is of the widest. A sufficient account is given of the various schools of composers and virtuosi in the musical countries of Europe, from Corelli down to Vieuxtemps and Joachim. Price, $5.00.

The Violin: Its famous Makers and their Imitators.

By GEORGE HART.

This volume is valuable to the violinist; it is instructive for the amateur; and miscellaneous matter may be found in it to fix the attention of the general reader. The book is as nearly exhaustive as possible, far exceeding any previous attempt of the kind. Mr. Hart is an authority on this subject who commands general respect, and the volume in which he has embodied the results of his experience and researches will be gratefully received by all who take an interest in what he justly calls the leading instrument. Price, $5.00.

Young People's Illustrated History of Music.

With Biographies of Famous Musicians. By JAMES C. MACY.

An entertaining book for young people, and a work that older persons will enjoy as well. It briefly states the facts relative to the history of music, from the earliest times to the present era, and gives, in addition, short biographical sketches of famous musicians, including Bach, Handel, Haydn, Beethoven, Mozart, Mendelssohn, Schubert, Schumann, and other masters; and there is a chronological list of great composers. Portraits of the greatest masters are given. Price, $1.00.

Construction, Tuning and Care of the Pianoforte.

By EDWARD QUINCY NORTON.

The results of the author's years of experience are set forth in this excellent book, which is as interesting as it is instructive and useful. You may learn to tune your own piano. The book seems to cover the entire ground in all that pertains to the care of a piano, such as tuning, polishing, regulating, repairing, etc. All defects are described and remedies given. The book is a whole piano factory in a nut-shell, and the most thorough and reliable work of its kind. Send for a descriptive circular. Price, 60 cts.
